

Center for American Politics and Public Policy

2017-2018 Teaching Assistantship in Washington, DC

- 50% time position in CAPP Program in Washington
- 2017-2018 Academic Year
- Compensation in accord with UCLA Graduate Division rates
- Rental housing may be available at UC Washington Center
- Transportation allowance

Graduate Student Teaching Position in the CAPP Program in Washington, DC

Successful applicant will assist in instruction of undergraduates in the Program in Washington. This is an excellent opportunity for a graduate student wishing to do research in Washington. Open to UCLA graduate students in any field.

Email cwald@capp.ucla.edu for more information.

Complete application should include:

1. Curriculum vitae
2. Letter describing applicant's research interest and qualifications for position
3. Transcripts of all graduate work
4. Letter of recommendation

Submit Applications by May 8, 2017 to:

Professor Joel D. Aberbach
UCLA Center for American Politics and Public Policy
2133 Rolfe Hall, Campus Mail Code 148402
Los Angeles, CA 90095-1484 310.206.3109

capp.ucla.edu • info@capp.ucla.edu

UCLA Center for American Politics and Public Policy (CAPPP)

TEACHING ASSISTANTSHIP IN WASHINGTON, D.C. 2017-2018 ACADEMIC YEAR

- 50% time position in CAPPP's Washington, DC undergraduate program at UC Washington Center
- Flexible start and end date
- Compensation in accordance with UCLA Graduate Division salary scale
- Transportation allowance
- Rental housing in UC Washington Center (depending on availability)

Graduate Student Teaching Position in the UCLA Center for American Politics and Public Policy's Quarter in Washington Program in Washington, DC

Applications Due Monday, May 8, 2017

Successful applicant will assist the associate director with instruction of UCLA undergraduates in the CAPPP Quarter in Washington Program, and also may assist in locating internships for CAPPP students. This position is an excellent opportunity for a graduate student wishing to do research in Washington. It is open to UCLA graduate students in any field.

"My experience as a teaching fellow for CAPPP was fantastic and one of the highlights of my graduate school career at UCLA. . . . CAPPP is an extraordinary program and my all-too-brief time here has impacted both my progress as a Ph.D. candidate and where I want to take my career in the future."

--Amy Zaro, PhD, UCLA Department of History

"I highly recommend the CAPPP teaching assistantship, as my experience in Washington was tremendously beneficial to both my research and teaching. . . . I credit CAPPP with making a significant contribution to my professional development."

--Philip Potter, PhD, UCLA Department of Political Science; Asst. Professor, University of Virginia Department of Politics

Completed application should include:

- Curriculum vitae
- Short statement of applicant's current research interest in letter form
- Transcript of graduate work
- Letter of recommendation

Please submit applications by MONDAY, MAY 8, 2017 to:

Professor Joel D. Aberbach
UCLA Center for American Politics and Public Policy (CAPPP)
2133 Rolfe Hall Box 951484
Los Angeles, CA 90095-1484 Campus Mailcode: 148402

For more information, contact CAPPP Administrator Carol Ann Wald at cwald@cappp.ucla.edu tel (310) 206-3109 • fax (310) 206-7110 • info@cappp.ucla.edu • cappp.ucla.edu